MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Placement and Utilization Division,
Office of Personnel

SUBJECT : [REDACTED]

25X1A9a

25X1A6a

1. With reference to your request for information concerning the possible effect on the career of subject employee if he marries a [REDACTED] citizen, the following advice is offered:

25X1A9a

a. Mr. [REDACTED] has the general administrative career designation (CD-A). The Deputy Director (Administration), with the advice of the DD/A Career Service Board, is primarily responsible for planning this employee's assignments, advancement, and career development.

b. Mr. [REDACTED] is no longer subject to immediate draft requirements, and hence can be assigned to headquarters positions as well as to field positions.

c. Although the WH Division has indicated (reference memorandum by Director of Security, dated 24 May 1954, in attached papers) that subject employee could not be used in that Division if he marries a [REDACTED] citizen, a sampling of larger area divisions (with greater opportunities for general administrative employees) reveals that his marriage would not seriously handicap his assignment to and advancement in those divisions. In addition, it is believed that he might also be assigned suitably in the other major components of the Agency despite his marital status. These opinions are, of course, subject to the test of specific approvals by the Director of Security.

d. At the present time there are two known administrative assignment opportunities within the DD/P organization for which Mr. [REDACTED] seems qualified. In anticipation of his possible return, subject employee is, in fact, being given consideration for one of these assignments at the present time.

e. In summary, it is believed that Mr. [REDACTED] marriage would not seriously interfere with his utilization and development within the DD/A Career Service. At the moment there can, of course, be no promise that he could be suitably assigned if he returned, and that he would not become a case for the Agency Reassignment Board. It would appear, however, that he would be little different than any other similarly-qualified administrative employee returning from overseas duty.

2. I would be pleased to provide any additional information or opinion which you desire in this matter.
